

Women's Stories in the Archives: Celebrating Women's History Month

Who: Anyone! This event is open the campus and the community at large!

When: 5:15-7:30p on March 16, 2023

Where: Special Collections and University Archives
(1st floor, Newman Library, near the study café)

Join Special Collections and University Archives (SCUA) for an evening open house in our reading room. We'll have materials from our historical manuscripts, rare book collection, and university archives that share/tell women's stories in their own words. Visitors can go hands-on with documents, oral histories, photographs, and more, as well as learn about SCUA in general.

This event is being held as part of the Women's History Month 2023 celebrations on campus. For more information about events happening during March 2023, see the Women's History Month website!

If you are an individual with a disability and desire an accommodation, please contact Kira Dietz at kadietz@vt.edu or 540-231-3810 during regular business hours at least 10 business days prior to the event.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES
VIRGINIA TECH